SUBCHAPTER 1

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Upon the death of an owner, title automatically passes to the surviving owner or owners. "Life estate" means the value of a property that is allocated between the life tenant and the remainderman.

"Life tenant" means a life estate holder who is entitled to certain property rights and the right to reside on the property for the duration of his, hers or someone else's life.

"Remainderman" means an individual who is given a remainder interest in a property which he or she will inherit upon the death of the life estate holder.

"SSI" mean the federal supplemental security income program for the aged, blind, and disabled, administered by the Social Security Administration.

"Student" means a child under age nineteen, enrolled in a public or private elementary or secondary school, or equivalent level of vocational or technical training.

"Tenancy" means the right to possession of real property or otherwise, permanently or temporarily, with or without title to the property.

"Tenancy in common" means ownership of property by two or more persons whose undivided interests in the property may not be proportionate. The owners may sell their interest without the consent of the other owners.

"Tenancy in the entirety" means the ownership of real or personal property by husband and wife, acquired by the couple at the same time through the same legal document. The right of survivorship is automatic. Neither spouse can convey their interest in the property without the consent of the other spouse. The ownership changes to tenancy in common with the dissolution of the marriage.
